

January 1, 1965 Supplement
to
COMPARISON OF STATE UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE LAWS

NOTE: This supplement is designed to be inserted in the pocket on the inside of the back cover of the Comparison of State Unemployment Insurance Laws as of January 1, 1964.

To enable users of the Comparison of State Unemployment Insurance Laws as of January 1, 1964 (BES No. U-141) to bring their copies up to date, the changes resulting from legislative enactments during 1964 are described herein. Included also are changes in several States where, in accordance with provisions enacted in previous years, the maximum weekly benefit amount is recomputed periodically. A few changes reflect omissions and errors requiring correction.

The information is grouped, under the appropriate chapter headings, by table number in the Comparison, and by page and line of text of the Comparison. In the interest of conciseness, changes in unnumbered summary tables and in the text have not been indicated where they would serve only to change the enumeration of States that fall within specified categories and the appropriate change has already been indicated for inclusion in a table.
